Comprehensive Library

Patheos' library of foundational information on world religions is unparalleled in depth and breadth. All library material is original and produced by leading theological experts, many from top North American colleges and universities. All library content has been peer-reviewed to ensure the highest level of credibility, objectivity and accuracy, and is regularly used in both teaching and research. The library consists of 100 of the world's traditions covering every major world tradition since ancient times.

Religion Portals

Unique to Patheos are a series of tradition-specific portals that feature columns, blogs and articles from experts in each tradition. The portals serve as online communities for intra-faith interaction, allowing visitors to gain new perspectives and participate in lively, informative dialogue around issues important to each faith community. Additional interaction can be found in forums or private study groups held in virtual classrooms. Patheos currently hosts portals for the following traditions: Buddhist, Catholic, Evangelical, Hindu, Jewish, Mainline Protestant, Mormon, Muslim, and Pagan.

Patheos Book Club

With Patheos' unmatched religion resources, the Patheos Book Club is a different kind of reader experience. By using the site's extensive library, interactive lenses and learning resources, the process of reading a book becomes a deeper, more meaningful experience. While readers are challenged to examine their own beliefs and understand the beliefs of others, authors and academics benefit from exposure to the Patheos audience -- millions of people who are interested in religion and faith issues.

Public Square and Featured Series

The Public Square and Patheos Featured Series are designed to elevate the global conversation on religion and spirituality and encourage readers to consider topics from multiple perspectives. Our 12-week Future of Religion Series received rave reviews as over 200 experts from every major faith tradition contributed essays about the future of their tradition. Our Public Square features multi-faith perspectives and conversation on the moral and religious issues of our time. The Patheos Featured Series and Public Square provide forums unlike any other on the Web, where the public, media, faith leaders and academics can engage in meaningful and constructive dialogue about some of today's most controversial and compelling topics.

Interactive Lenses

A variety of interactive lenses allow visitors to compare, contrast and experience different religions and belief systems in new and innovative ways. For example, through the side-by-side lens, visitors can compare two different religions to learn how they are both similar and different on a variety of angles.

Inspiration Portal

Each day, thousands visit the Patheos Inspiration Portal where we share a daily inspirational message and feature the popular Purpose and Possibility blog. A variety of authors share inspirational stories. Our Inspiration Portal attracts many who are exploring or re-exploring their spirituality and consider themselves to be "spiritual but not religious."
